

Campus Representative Marketing Intern

Provide a great service to professors. Make a bunch of money.

University Readers is revolutionizing the college textbook industry, and we are hiring ambitious, highly responsible, sales-oriented students and part-timers nationwide to promote our national course pack and custom textbook services. Our service is easy to use, and easy to promote!

Here's what the position entails:

- Distributing circulars to professors in their offices and via department mailboxes for approximately 5 hours per week
- Answering questions about our company and services.
- Giving brief demonstrations of our online order page.
- Recording your conversation notes in a web-based tool each week.
- Reporting to our Campus Rep Coordinator each week on your overall progress.

Although this position will initially run for 5 weeks*, star performers can be offered ongoing, year-round part-time positions (even full-time jobs!).

If you want to gain exceptional resume experience, help make professors' lives easier, and save students money on their course materials each term, then apply today to become a University Readers Campus Representative Marketing Intern.
